CONNECTING IRISH TRADE SINCE 1976

Founded in Dublin in 1976, The Leinster Group began as a shipping agency supporting Irish port operations and the country's growing export economy. As containerisation expanded global trade during the 1980s and 1990s, Irish industries such as dairy, seafood, manufacturing and construction materials increasingly relied on dependable shipping connections to international markets.

In response, Leinster Shipping developed integrated logistics, forwarding and liner agency services to support evolving supply chains.

Today the company connects Irish exporters with global markets through practical expertise, operational reliability and long-standing industry relationships.
